Valuable Service Has Been Rendered to North Alabama Cities.

The Benevolent Hospital here has been designated by the United States government as one of the institutions in which former soldiers and sailors, requiring treatment under the provisions of the war risk insurance and vocational training acts, will be sent. This report was given official confirmation today by Dr. A. A. Roan, surgeon for the government in this district. The designation of the hospital is a compliment to the institution and at the same time increases the need for enlargement of the building, plans for which now are being considered by the Benevolent Society. It is considered likely that all of the soldiers of this district requiring medical attention, will be sent to the local hospital. Government rates are paid for this hospital care.

Enlargement Planned
It was the original intention, when the present building was constructed, to add two additional wings, and as a matter of fact the plans were drawn so that the wings could be added as economically as possible.

The hospital has rendered valuable service, not only to the Twin Cities, but to neighboring North Alabama communities as well. The present available space is not sufficiently large to care for all demands on the institution. A benefit performance will be given at the Masonic Theater soon to raise funds for aiding the hospital and a large attendance is expected.

The government is very particular in its selection of hospitals and those designated are required to be of a high standard. The local institution was found to comply with all of the government regulations.

A somewhat delayed Thanksgiving service, but a very profitable one, according to those who attended, was that held Sunday night at the First Baptist church of Albany. The Junior Order of American Mechanics attended the service in a body, wearing full regalia. The following program was enjoyed by the large congregation:

Piano solo, Miss Truman Stuckey; welcome to the visiting brotherhood, by Carlisle Buck; quartet, Messrs. Laxson, McCall, Hawkins and Evans; reading, Master Lamar Buck; quartet by singers previously mentioned; reading, Little Miss Doris O'Neal; congregational hymn, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name"; sermon by Rev. R. F. Stuckey, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Albany.

The preacher's text was: Ps. 116—"What shall I render unto the Lord for all His benefits to me?" Rev. Stuckey insisted that big, manly men were always appreciative, grateful and thankful, and that little men were always unappreciative and ungrateful. In the course of his sermon which has been highly complimented by those who heard it, many Bible characters were cited by Rev. Stuckey to prove his claim that the truly great are always appreciative and always desirous of honoring God.

America Has Not Failed Former Allies Great Charity Work Is Being Carried On

United States Doing More for Relief and Recon-

LONDON, Nov. 30.—There is an impression in many minds that America has failed Europe, refused to ratify the peace treaty, and withdrawn from participation in the great work of reconstruction—in other words, has practically abandoned her former allies in the time of their greatest need. "Now what is the actual fact? America has been doing more for the relief and reconstruction of Europe than all other powers put together."

Such is the corrective to popular opinion in Europe and tribute to America given by E. R. Peacock, an Englishman who has traveled widely during recent months and who writes from Australia to the Spectator.

"This is a bold statement," he says, "but from personal experience and observation I believe it to be absolutely beyond dispute, and probably the measure of her help is only feebly indicated by that comparison."

To the average Englishman, who cannot rid himself of the idea that America and the Americans always do things with a brass band accompaniment, Peacock's portrayal of America's effort of mercy undoubtedly comes as a surprise. Unquestionably the vague opinion of the average man in the street here is that America has abandoned Europe. The idea was strengthened by the election results.

American Relief Work

"Since the armistice," Peacock writes, "I have visited most of the countries between Asia Minor and Denmark, and between the English Channel and the Baltic provinces. Everywhere I have found social service agencies from America working along unostentatiously. "The American is positive, practical and constructive, and everything that touches his sympathy makes a strong appeal to his idealism. "Here is America supplying the WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The knowledge among other countries that the United States has decided to continue its chemical warfare service to a point not surpassed by any other nation, will go a long way toward deterring others from forcing hostilities against this country, in the belief of Brigadier General Amos A. Fries, chief of the chemical warfare service, expressed in his annual report to the secretary of war, made public today.

"The United States," said General Fries, "with its incomparable natural resources and highly developed manufacturing possibilities, will be able to manufacture and deliver, on the field of battle, greater quantities of chemicals than any other single, or, indeed, any other group of nations."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Geo. T. Summerlin, charge d'affaires at Mexico City, was instructed today by the State Department that he might attend the inauguration of President Obregon tomorrow, but only in an unofficial capacity. These instructions were issued, it was said, in order to enable Mr. Summerlin to answer the invitation of the Mexican government.

By JACK ROYLE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Officials of the United States government are watching closely the events which will follow the inauguration tomorrow of General Alvaro Obregon, recently elected president of Mexico. General Obregon is the tenth man to bear that title in the storm-tossed republic below the Rio Grande within ten years. Not one of General Obregon's predecessors served out a legally constituted presidential term because they or their advisers and supporters were drugged with power.

Uncertain Terms

The ravages of marihuana, a constant menace to Mexico, since it grows wild and anyone may obtain it without difficulty or cost, have been trivial compared to the blood and tears caused by the use and abuse of the habit-forming drug of executive power within the last ten years. Because of it, the terms of General Obregon's predecessors varied from 45 minutes to three years and three months. Because of it, two of them were shot down and killed. Through its influence five of them were forced to flee to other lands and one sought safety in hiding within the Mexican boundaries. The remaining one, Adolfo de la Huerta, it seems, probably will relinquish his post tomorrow of his own free will, in safety and security.

With General Porfirio Diaz began the ten-year cycle of unrest. For years he had ruled Mexico with an iron hand until the wielding of power was a second nature to him. Although he had grown old, he could not bear to relinquish its use. So, on March 3, 1910, he had himself elected for another term of six years. The iron hand had lost its grip, however, and it was no longer an impartial hand. Advisers, through whose machinations he would have seen instantly in past years, began to sway him not for his good or Mexico's but for their own.

Huerta Makes Changes

Adolfo de la Huerta, not a victim of the habit, was chosen president ad interim by Congress as provided by the constitution and immediately started settling his house in order. He was known and trusted by the common people throughout Mexico and difficulties smoothed out almost like magic. Pancho Villa, a thorn in the side of the government for years, surrendered himself and disbanded his men. The struggle for supremacy which had been going on in the rich oil fields of Tamaulipas and Vera Cruz between General Pelaez and Carranza for years and which forced a double tax on oil producers, was done away with. Governor Esteban Cantu, who had ruled supreme in Lower California, ignoring or flouting the federal government, resigned in favor of Luis Salazar, selected by de la Huerta as governor ad interim. A new congress was elected without disturbance.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The government's objections to the plans of the Chicago packers to divorce themselves from their stockyard and terminal holdings will be filed today, it was announced at the department of justice this morning. These objections will deal with all four plans now before the court, it was said. The Armour and Swift proposals, which are practically identical, provide for the formation of a corporation to take over the stockyard holdings. The Morris and Cudahy plans provide, in effect, that the courts take over the holdings until they can be sold to the general public.

The Viscount declared further that the Japanese are opposed to any attempt to revise the league covenant at the present time. A committee report, providing for annual meetings of the assembly, on the first Monday of September, was adopted.

Plenary sessions were resumed by the assembly this morning, but only routine matters were scheduled for consideration.

All that is necessary to do in order to enter the Daily's Automobile Campaign and compete for the big prizes is to send in your name and address on the nomination coupon which appears in today's issue and mail or bring it to the campaign headquarters' office. Receipt books for convenience in taking subscriptions and full particulars regarding the big campaign will be given you. Send in your nomination coupon now. The poet Virgil sang many years ago: "Seize the moment, O companion; it is tomorrow that we tempt the mighty ocean." "Get a move on you" is the way we moderns put it; but it means the same provided you apply it to sending in your nomination coupon.

Call 46 for details. Not unlike the flood which gathers its waters from the mountain rivers and the many inlets and tributary sources, the main artery gradually rising until the brim is reached, and then spreading everywhere with increasing force, the big campaign is rapidly moving, onward, never stopping; and rousing interest and action in every direction.

The list of contestants is growing steadily, and yesterday's enrollment swelled the total considerably. Several stated that they would withhold their nomination coupons until Thursday so as to help make "Banner Day" a real success. There were many inquiries from people wanting to know just what the "Banner Day" idea was. Encouraging reports have been received from nearly every part of the territory, and from present indications

LONDON, Nov. 30.—A building was wrecked in the heart of London early today by the explosion of a timed bomb. The explosion occurred in a leather store, near London bridge, at 2 o'clock. There were no casualties. All the streets in the vicinity of the explosion were closed to traffic in fear that other bombs might have been planted by the terrorists.

The authorities are said to have discovered plots to blow up electric power houses supplying London, and all are heavily guarded. Similar violence is said to have been planned at Manchester.

CORK, Nov. 30.—The city hall was completely destroyed by fire today. The damage was estimated at $1,000,000. The first attempt to fire the building was unsuccessful but the torch was applied the second time. Black and Tan policemen were active all night and during the early hours today there was heavy rifle firing and bomb explosions. Part of the population became terror-stricken and fled from the city.

The incendiary damage at Cork during the past week, including the loss from the destruction of the city hall, is estimated at $5,000,000.

FRESH WAVE
(International News Service)
DUBLIN, Nov. 30.—A fresh wave of incendiaryism grows over Southern Ireland today, following the orgy of bloodshed near Kilmichael, when 17 cadets of the auxiliary police (Black and Tan) were ambushed and 15 of them were killed outright and one fatally wounded.

The remaining cadet is missing. A band of men, armed and masked, burned the Sinn Fein bank in Harcourt street, Dublin. Reprisal fires broke out in County Cork, following the killing of the police cadets. Nearly all the houses at Kilmichael and nearby districts were destroyed. Business is at a standstill. Soldiers are combing County Cork for the ambushers who killed the cadets. There were 100 in the attacking party.

Much interest is being shown in the appearance here on December 3 of Mrs. Mary Gilmer Martin and Howard Wentworth Hess, noted artists, who will appear in recital at the Masonic for the benefit of the Benevolent Hospital. Proceeds from the entertainment will be used to make-up the deficit caused by the many charity patients at the institution.

Regarding Mrs. Martin, Moses Boguslawski writes to Mr. Sheehan of the Boston English Opera Company: "I am anxious for you to hear a gifted mezzo-soprano, Mrs. Mary Gilmer Martin. You are no doubt on the lookout for fine artists for your company and I am sure you will be very enthusiastic over her singing."

The New York Musical Courier speaks of Mr. Hess as follows: "The playing of Howard Wentworth Hess was particularly brilliant. He has a fine sense of color in music and is thoroughly equipped technically. Add to these a warm singing tone and a delightful understanding of rhythmic nuances, and you have the artist who needs only to be heard to be appreciated."

NEW PLAN TO AID FARMERS

F. O. Hooton, supervisor Markets, Division of the State Department of Agriculture, has proposed a new plan to aid Alabama farmers in their present emergency which is expected to appeal alike to the spirits of economy and patriotism of the people of the state. Mr. Hooton's plan, in a nutshell, is the "buy a bale of cotton" movement, applied to products the average person can use immediately—peanuts and sugar cane syrup.

Mr. Hooton, in a letter to The Albany-Decatur Daily, explains his plan as follows:

The Market Division of the State Department of Agriculture is authorized by the State Health Department to say to the people of Alabama that there is no more wholesome or nutritious food than peanuts and sugar cane syrup. A bountiful crop of both of these splendid food products has been produced this year by the farmers of Alabama. No market through the usual commercial avenues can be found for these foodstuffs except at ruinous prices.

We appeal to the consumers of Albany and throughout the State to use more of these wholesome foods this winter, and thereby save more money for themselves and for the farmer. The Markets Division is ready to place the consumers in direct touch with farmers and farmers' marketing organizations. Let each community make up an order for several families for these products and mail to this office. Every family can consume a bushel of peanuts and several gallons of syrup. Prices will be quoted at once from the growing centers of the State.

There are few products credited with having greater health building faculties than peanuts. Many people believe peanuts, particularly in the raw state, are enemies of the digestive organs, but the medical fraternity has largely cleared up that misconception. In the treatment of some disease, peanuts, as a diet, are recommended.

Those residents of Alabama who have not long been counted in our citizenship perhaps are not familiar with sugar cane syrup. Many of those who have never lived further south than this county may never have tasted that delectable product. Recommendations will not enhance the merit of the product. The taste is the thing. There is no syrup just like cane syrup.

Viewed from the standpoint of healthfulness, Mr. Hooton's plan has much to recommend it. If the prices quoted are reasonable, there appears no reason why it should not be successful.

PUBLISHING COSTS SOAR

The details of the publishing business are so little known to the public, sometimes it is hard for the readers of a newspaper or a magazine to grasp the problems the periodicals of the nation have met since America's entry into the war started an era of price increases without parallel in our history.

The majority of people have accepted the comparatively small increases in the cost of newspapers and magazines, as they have accepted other price increases, wondering, but without actual criticism. Others, a small minority, have been unfair in their attitude toward the journalistic profession.

An indication of what the publishing fraternity in general has been facing is given in the following figures of cost increases compiled by the National Geographic Magazine:

Paper for magazine 250 per cent.
Labor and clerical services 175 per cent.
Freight on paper 101 per cent.
Printing 86 per cent.
Wrapping paper for mailing 220 per cent.
Machinery used 200 per cent.

Newspapers throughout America, large and small, have experienced practically the same difficulties. In fact, the smaller newspapers, in most cases, have suffered more acutely than the larger ones. Soon after the outbreak of the war, print paper began to go up in price. From the former normal level of from 2 to 3 cents a pound, it went as high as 18 to 20 cents a pound, an increase of nearly 900 per cent. The larger newspapers were protected by contract in most instances. The phenomenal growth of national advertising and the general shortage of paper caused many of those newspapers to be forced into the open market to replenish their stocks, but the smaller newspaper had no contract whatever to aid it. Therefore the smaller newspapers were given the choice of paying the high price or going out of business. A large percentage chose the latter.

The Daily is proud, indeed, that it picked the former alternative. Since October 1, the newspaper market has eased up to this extent. It is not so hard to purchase paper at any price as it was three months ago, but the price still is high. Since the outbreak of the war, the price of newspaper has increased approximately 400 per cent, based on the lowest of present quotations.

Speaking of the outlook for 1921, the National Geographic says:

"It is the judgment of the Board of Trustees that no material reduction in the principal production costs of publication—paper, engraving, printing, machinery and labor—can be expected for 1921, and that, therefore, it would be unwise for the Society to incur further deficiency."

During all of the time of the war and since, The Daily has realized that it was the duty of this newspaper to hold the cost of the paper to its readers as low as possible. The increases in the city have amounted to just 5 cents a week, or 50 per cent; the increases in subscription rates by mail have been only slightly more. Where has the increased cost been borne? The Daily frankly admits that much of it has been borne by the advertisers, while a large part of it has been covered by increased volume of business, without which The Daily would have been unable to have continued in existence.

THE OPELIKA PLAN

Lacking legislative authority, it is impossible for Alabama municipalities to adopt the city manager plan of government. However, Opelika seems to have found a way to accomplish practically this result.

The Opelika News records the action of the council of that city in creating an office for the supervision of all city affairs outside the city hall, having "supreme authority in regard to the light plant, water works, cisterns, street work, springing system and any other business which the city has on the outside." The council there has selected a former mayor of that city to fill this office.

Gadsden is fortunate in having a good set of city officials. They are on the alert for plans to secure greater efficiency in the administration of city affairs. It might be well for them to investigate the Opelika plan and to determine whether its adoption in Gadsden might produce better results at lower cost to the tax payers.—Gadsden Evening Journal.

to peace and prosperity and content is an impossible task only to brains drugged with power. Doubtless he knows that not the least of his difficulties will be to suppress the intoxication of place in those who must act as his representatives. And that kind of marihuana still grows wild in Mexico.

Just In Passing

THORPE WONDER PLAYER.

"Jim Thorpe is the wonder player of football," declared Bob Dobbins, former Sewanee star and member of the mythical All-Southern eleven. "I played professional football in Ohio last winter and included in our circuit was Thorpe. The Indian star made an offer at one time to bet one thousand dollars that he could make first down in four attempts against any team. Thorpe may or may not have been able to do it, but he certainly would have given them a run for their money and so far as I know, the bet was never called. Thorpe managed Akron and for two years his team was not defeated. It was not due entirely to the calibre of the eleven either. Thorpe was generally reported to have received $800 a game and he gathered about him players of ordinary ability. He then drilled them, day after day, in defense. Thorpe, himself was the offense, although he had pretty good assistance. None of the other members of the team, however, were anything like so good as the Indian. Professional football had quite a rage for a while, the games were well attended. The professional game lacked some of the spirit of the college contests, but the followers of the various squads used to come to the field with brass bands and colors flying. All of the college spirit was not lacking. The professional game was cleanly played and I really liked it."

GETTING BACK

"Owing to the low price of cotton and general decline in farm products we feel that it is the duty of every merchant in every line of business to adjust the prices of their merchandise to a Pre-War basis as rapidly as possible," said Dr. F. R. Beason today. "We realize that this means the merchants will have to take a loss in some instances, but the farmer is taking a heavy loss in selling his cotton and other products at present prices and we can not expect them to buy our merchandise with a dollar that is worth only about fifty cents."

Certainly slipped on not tipping you that Mr. Bacon invited me to join his shooting party up here. Arrived at his Northeast Carry camp at sunset yesterday. And a riot started before we squared up to the venison steak! Listen, old bull pup—my tale's short!

Bleak Nixon, chief guide, while unpacking, made the terrible discovery that all the Camel cigarette supplies had been swiped in transit! Never heard such a howl as the whole outfit set up! Nixon swore in Indian—'Canuck! Just wouldn't be pacified! Bleak's been rooting for Camels since November, 1915. Says there never was such smoothness, or refreshing flavor, or mild body in a cigarette as Camels provide! (Pete, Bleak is O. K. on that). While the row was on what does Nixon do but hop into his canoe and disappear into the depths of the dark, dank night!

About three this morning there was a roar such as no man ever heard in the wild woods! It was Nixon yelling like a double-decked bull moose! That bird had crossed the lake, picked up a trail and beat it to a little way-back store where he got the boss out of bed and made him come across with all the Camels he had. The storekeeper kicked like a handful of aces—but, Bleak always gets what he goes after! It's the nerve, old tooth! And, now we're all filled with the milk of human kindness and Camel contentment! We'll get game!

Peter, think of dicing up a bunch of Camels in the depth of Maine's densest woods! And, that's the way it is all over the U. S. A.! You're never out of luck when you smoke Camels! Peter, old hub, I've spoke—as the cook puts it!

Back in New York—well,—soon!

Cecil B. DeMille's "WHY CHANGE YOUR WIFE?" A Paramount Picture

By WILLIAM DEMILLE

Where was the girl he married? Where the lure of the glamour, the ecstatic sweetheart hours?

Faded into dull, drab matrimony.

Was he wholly to blame when another woman, aglow with the joy of living, slipped into the place in his life which his wife had left vacant? Was he?

A vital, intimate picture of the greatest problem of love and marriage. Dressed in all the luxury, color and feminine beauty that distinguished DeMille's "Male and Female" and "Don't Change Your Husband."

Thomas Meighan, Gloria Swanson,
Bebe Daniels, Theodore Kosloff

"HOUSE OF WHISPERS" AT DELITE TODAY

J. Warren Kerrigan's latest Bruno production, "The House of Whispers," a gripping mystery play by the well-known novelist and playwright, William Johnston, has been released by W. W. Hodkinson and will be shown today at the Delite Theater.

"The House of Whispers" is undoubtedly one of the finest pictures Kerrigan has produced in years and is excellently adapted to his virile, romantic type. He is seen in the role of an adventure-loving young clubman who undertakes to solve a baffling mystery which surrounds "The House of Whispers," an exclusive apartment house.

An ingenious crook has built "The House of Whispers" and honeycombed it with secret passageways, thus enabling him to rob the apartments of his tenants at leisure. With the aid of a beautiful girl, Spalding discovers the secret of the passageways and exposes the criminal.

Kerrigan is supported in this picture by an unusually brilliant cast. Fritz Brunette, who has played opposite the star in many of his successes of the past year, is again seen in the leading feminine role. Direction is by Ernest C. Warde and the play was adapted to the screen by Jack Cunningham.

COUGHED FOR 2 YEARS ORDERED TO DENVER

Doctor said she couldn't get well in Illinois, but she did.

"I had a very bad cough for 2 years, all the time, day and night. Could sleep but little. I tried everything but got no relief. Finally my doctor said he could do no more for me, that I had better go to Denver as I couldn't live in Illinois. Then I tried Milk's Emulsion. From the very first, it helped me. By the time I had taken 15 bottles, my cough left me entirely. I have gained in strength and flesh and am now in perfect health."—Mrs. Alice M. Huntley, 182 No. Pearl St., Galesburg, Ill.

Build up your system and give it a chance to fight off disease. Milk's Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physic. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milk's Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whose sickness has weakened, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved. This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Truly wonderful for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milk's Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 75c and $1.50 per bottle. The Milk's Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.

Sold by Thompson's Drug Store, Albany, and Benson-Cobb Drug Co., Decatur, and all first class druggists.

THE PILGRIMS

"Too cold!"—Their fervent zeal For righteousness, for liberty of soul To follow Truth, no rigors could oppress—Oppression, perils of the awful sea, The unknown port, the savage host—the whole Bleak range of misery, By meagre food and agonizing cold Enhanced a hundredfold!

"Intolerant!"—They bought Their freedom with a price too nobly great To lose it lightly. Always in their thought A future peril to their children loomed With entrance of false doctrine! Could they wait Until their peace was doomed, While error wrought a snare where, after all, Their little ones might fall?

"Too strict!"—They fortified A wall against their passions; made more sure Than we that smiling evils were denied An entrance to their hearts, which craved, as ours, All fair and pleasant things. (With joy how pure They hailed those tender flowers, The gift of May!) They loved life only less Than inner holiness.

Sublime, the simple law Of their first charter! "They would do no wrong, But live in union, holding God in awe, And honoring the King." Supreme, intense, Their binding love and loyalty held strong In that fierce exigence When fifty died before the Suring! Scant food But sealed their brotherhood!

Sufficient was the fire Upon their altar in the wilderness! Unquenchable as that which, rising higher, Consumed the water that Elijah poured Upon the wood; in danger and distress And solemn grief it soared Beneath a Winter heaven—to what height Of ardor, in God's sight!

True pilgrims, passionate In longing for the City of their King, They sought no other goal; insatiate For righteousness and utter verity, They found a Fountain in their journeying.
Too cold? Too cold are we Who slander with faint praise that martyr band— To cold to understand! Grace Agnes Timmerman.

BRADLEY-WHITMAN

In the parlor of the Stilwell Hotel Tuesday morning, Mr. H. E. Bradley and Miss Evaline Whitman, both of Albany, Ala., were united in marriage. The words that joined their lives were said in a very impressive manner by Rev. W. E. Sharp of Lewisburg. The couple were ushered into the parlor by the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Mr. Herman Hawkins, gliding into the dreamy sweet notes of "A Perfect Day" during the ceremony.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Zana Powell, and a few relatives and friends witnessed the marriage. The bride was a picture of beauty in an elegant dress of midnight blue plora twill, and her bouquet was pink carnations. Evaline is well known in Marshall county having been a resident until the past few years, and has many friends to follow her with good wishes and congratulate the fortunate young man from Alabama. Mr. Bradley is a prominent business man of Albany, and this will be her home.

After enjoying a drive of a few hours, reviewing the scenes of Evaline's childhood days, they were given a splendid reception at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Orr Fowler.—Lewisburg Tribune.

POUND PARTY

Wednesday evening, Nov. 24, after the prayer services, the membership of the First and Central Methodist churches, gave a pound party to the new presiding Elder, Rev. W. P. McGlaughn and Rev. G. M. Davenport who has been returned by conference to his charge in Decatur. The home of Dr. and Mrs. L. J. Ramage was thrown open for this party. Th many substantial additions to the larder of these popular pastors attested to the love and esteem in which they are held by their membership. A feature of the evening which created much amusement was the Red Cross contribution, two bags, which on being opened, produced two Charlie Chaplin derbies, one for each Divine. Reverend McGlaughn's hat proved a mis-fit, "still the wonder grew, that one small head could carry all he knew," and an exchange was effected with Rev. Davenport.

Among useful gifts presented Rev. and Mrs. McGlaughn and Rev. and Mrs. Davenport, were dressed turkeys, sacks of flour, bunches of bananas, etc.

EGYPTIAN FUTURE MARKET STRONG

EGYPTIAN FUTURE MARKET STRONG
TONE OF FOREIGN CABLES REFLECTED IN FIRMER PRICES HERE

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The cotton market opened steady today at a decline of 4 points to an advance of 11 points and later ruled firmer, prices working upward to a net gain of 20 to 23 points. Selling early was based on poor cables from Liverpool, bearish English opinion and selling orders from that quarter. There was a good demand from trade sources and from new speculative buyers, while offerings from the South were limited. Private cables reported a strong Egyptian future market, with January contracts closing at 38.75, compared with an opening quotation at 35.00. New Orleans was a small seller.

GO NO FARTHER

The Evidence is at Your Door.
Albany proof is what you want and the statement of this highly respected resident will banish all doubt:
Lee McNeese, prop. wagon and carriage repair, 120 Moulton St., Albany, says: "I use Doan's Kidney Pills every spring and fall as a preventive from kidney trouble and they keep me in good, healthy condition. In the wagon and carriage business, I have considerable standing on my feet and now and then 'take a heavy lift.' It affects my kidneys and brings on an attack of backache. My kidneys act irregular, too. As soon as I feel any of these symptoms coming, I get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the People's Drug Co. and in a short time the troubles disappear. I am pleased to give Doan's my endorsement."

E. H. B. DEMILLE'S
NEW PRODUCTION IS PRINCESS WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY

Cecil E. DeMille's latest Paramount re-act production, "Why Change our Wife?" will come to the Princess Theatre for two days commencing Wednesday next. It is described as a striking drama of married life lavishly presented. Gloria Swanson and Thomas Meighan are the featured actors. The story is by William De-Mille.

The plot centers around Robert and Eth Gordon, married for ten years, at now beginning to drift apart.
Eth has become a too wifely wife and bores her husband with her excessive solicitude for his comforts. He finds diversion in the company of vivacious, pleasure-loving Sally Clark.
Literal-minded Eth imagines them in love. A divorce follows, and Robert marries Sally. Too late Eth discovers why she lost her husband and, blossoming like a rose, develops into society's gayest figure. Sally, on the other hand, is transformed by marriage into a worse household drudge than Beth ever was. Robert's eyes are opened when he again sees Beth, and through a dramatic series of events they are brought happily together.

"BLIND HUSBANDS"
An unusual story on a daring theme amid awe-inspiring scenery are the outstanding characteristics of "Blind Husbands," the Universal film story of the Tyrolean Alps.

The story carries the spectator to a fashionable hotel in the Alps where an amazing intrigue of love is presented to the most dramatic conclusion imaginable.

A famous American physician finds his wife on the verge of entering into

Electric Company
Opens a New Store

The Jackson Electric Company, formerly on Church street, has opened its new store on Bank street, adjoining the new postoffice building. The store is modernly equipped and many Christmas electrical novelties have been added to make the stocks complete.

EMPRESS WORSE
(International News Service)
DOORN, Holland, Nov. 30.—The former German empress suffered two heart attacks today and her condition is critical.

an unsavory alliance with an Austrian officer. He makes the discovery while the weakling officer is in the jagged ice-trap of the mountains, powerless to save his own life.

The climax is a smashing indictment of men who tamper with the wives of other men. It is vigorous lesson in decency, cleanly told.

Eric Stroheim depicts the role of the Austrian officer. Francis Billington is Margaret Armstrong, wife of the famous American surgeon.

Supporting the two principal players is a strong cast of favorite Universal players, composed of Sam De-Grasse, H. Gibson Gowland, Valerie Germanprez and Jack Perrin.

"Blind Husbands" is in itself a vigorous drama, a beautiful travel-ogue and an entirely satisfactory and entertaining photoplay.

It will remain at the Princess Theatre until Tuesday.
